

Girls Ahoy

Sailingjollies has just had great feedback regarding this fantastic sailing week in Antigua and because of popular demand we have decided to put together more Girly sailing packages.

Sailing is often a very male oriented sport, which is reflected in many of the available holidays and introductions to the sport. Sailing does not have to be an endurance test - it can be exciting and FUN! So, whether you are on your own or want to sail with likeminded girlfriends give sailingjollies a call and plan a sail of a lifetime.

Being on a boat at sea is probably one of the most calming yet awesome places you will ever find yourself. Being so close to nature, watching the waves materialize in succession, the only sounds being the ocean and the wind as it gently whistles past your ears, and of course the chatter of us talking and laughing about the days adventures whilst listening to the ice clang together when the rum punches are being poured.

If you have never sailed before, there is no need to worry. All of our yachts can comfortably cruise with the skipper doing all the work! All the skippers are RYA qualified and will introduce you to the simple art of sailing, Itinerary's are planned daily which allows you to contribute if you want to.

At night, we will either be in a harbour or marina, tied next to the other yachts, or we will be at anchor. The harbours are generally very protected which creates comfort. Evening meals are taken on shore where you get a chance to sample some of the local dished.

Sailingjollies has had a number of groups of girls sailing together and as a team player each and every Girls has found that special something inside them that takes them away from the normal day to day life and opens up a different passion, The girls on the Antigua week never new each other before but have bonded so well that they now know that they will be in each others thoughts for a long time to come, they found that sailing as a girl team gave them great confidence, and ability to sail without a worry, one comment from Jennie one of the sailing team was SEA, SAND, SUN, RUM, FUN, FRIENDSHIP, AWESOME SAILING lots of socialising and a MAGNIFICENT BREAK OVERALL!!

So for a Magnificent girly break or any more information call Sailigjollies on 0207 193 5426 or email Pam@sailingjollies.co.uk
